The Bible contains many prophecies and promises of the Lord's return for His believing church. Many of these prophecies contain warnings regarding the deception that will abound in these last days. In the twenty-fourth chapter of Matthew, Jesus gives clear warning of the chaotic events that will signal His return: wars, ethnic conflict, pestilence, earthquakes, betrayal and persecution. Those who remain faithful and do not deny Him will be saved. There will be such disorder, confusion and lawlessness men's hearts will fail them. In this context Jesus asks, "Will I find faith when I return?"

We are admonished to watch and be ready. The difficulty of the times will cause many, like the foolish virgins, to turn away unprepared for His coming. In the twenty-first chapter of Luke, we have similar prophecies and warnings of His coming. Many will suffer persecution and betrayal at the hands of family and friends, and some will even be put to death by the hatred of evil men.

Luke 21: 19 says, "In your patience possess ye your souls." Your security is in your enduring the adversity and being faithful. "Will I find faith on the earth when I return?" There will be a great distinction between those who are truly God's elect and those who only have a form of faith but deny His power. In II Thess. 2: 1-12 we are warned not to be deceived by the Antichrist spirit working even now, conditioning many to receive a false christ and a false church. Satan is behind the media, educational system, politics, and religious groups promoting deception and rebellion against God. The minds of the ignorant are being conditioned to follow a false system, offering false hope and denying the very power of God that brings salvation to the lost. What will distinguish God's elect from those who are not? It will be evidenced by an uncompromising faithfulness to Jesus Christ; an overcomer who follows the Lamb whatsoever He goes and loves not his life even to death. As hostility from the world and organized religion increases, these few will remain faithful to Jesus in the perilous times that we find ourselves in, even now. They will keep themselves pure; not entangled in the affairs of this world nor its bankrupt religious system.

Every professing Christian must ask himself - Will I be faithful? Will I be ready? Will I endure to the end? Am I ready for an honest, heart-searching examination, exposing the sincerity of my faith?

"Will I find faith when I return?"
